Ground Rules

1. Share our time & space together. Actively listen, contribute, and learn!
2. Find ways to support the work & ideas of others.
3. Disagreements should be respectfully shared and based exclusively on professional differences.
4. Practice self care.
5. Advocate for help when needed:

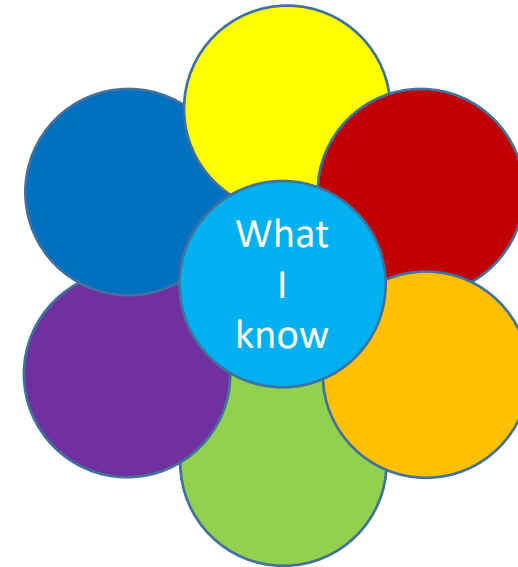

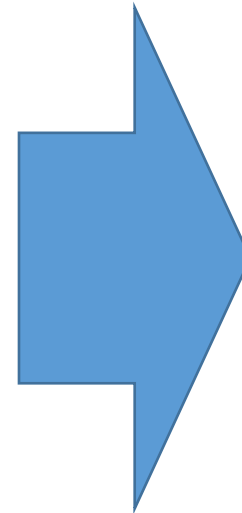

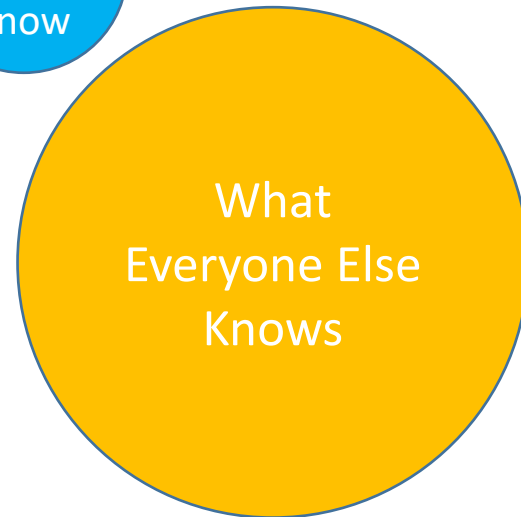

Emily Jack-Scott, ejs@agci.org, 267-242-0797

AGCI adheres to the same guidelines of expected and unacceptable behavior, including consequences, as the American Geophysical Union:

<https://www.agu.org/Plan-for-a-Meeting/AGUMeetings/Meetings-Resources/Meetings-code-of-conduct>

If at any time before, during, or after workshop activities, you become aware of unacceptable behavior against yourself or others, please advocate immediately for help.

Motivating Challenge

Seek solutions that stay within planetary boundaries

raise the social foundation.
